City Completes Post-Election Audit in Ward 2A

Ward 2A in the City of Mequon was randomly chosen as one of 368 reporting units selected statewide to conduct the statutorily required post-election audit of electronic voting equipment. These audits take place after each November's General Election. The audit involves a panel who scrutinize each ballot and manually hand count the votes for four specified races. This is then compared to the results provided on election night by the City's Dominion ImageCast Evolution equipment. Staff is happy to report that the manual count accurately matched the machine count.
