City Records More Than 3 Inches of Rain on August 14

On Monday, August 14, the City of Mequon had a wet weather event. The rainfall was intense at times and was measured by the Department of Public Works (DPW) Combined Facility's rain gauge in the amount of 3.2 inches of accumulation. Fortunately, any corresponding infiltration and inflow did not result in any issues for Mequon's sanitary sewer system. Notably, the City's DPW Sewer Maintenance crew works diligently on a daily basis to operate and maintain a reliable system. They are responsible for the operation and capital improvements on 167 miles of sanitary sewers, 3,900 structures, 23 lift stations and 18 miles of force mains within the public right-of-way and upon easements that service nearly 8,000 customers. The Division's goal is to maintain capacity in the sanitary sewer collection system in dry and wet weather and to program capital improvements for necessary improvements.

Elsewhere, long-term lane closures near the intersection of Port Washington and Mequon Roads are underway through the fall for utility work in advance of reconstructing the Mequon Road Interchange. August is Traffic Awareness Month

August is Traffic Awareness Month and the Police Department would like to send out a few safety reminders. When driving, always drive with caution, and always look at your mirrors before and after passing other cars or changing lanes. Always slow down when driving through construction zones, and don't ever text and drive. In addition, if one sees an emergency vehicle stopped along a roadway with flashing lights: immediately slow down, move over if you can safely do so, and switch to a lane that's not immediately next to the emergency vehicle.
