to Mequon

In order to take proactive measures to improve the performance of the City's sewer collection system, the City shares a sewer televising truck with Brown Deer and Shorewood that rotates locations approximately every three months. Televising is the most effective method to inspect the internal condition of a sewer. The main purpose of these inspections is to determine the condition of the pipe and if any blockages are present that may require cleaning, replacement, or repair. The inspections also help to detect any cross connections between sewers and help maintain compliance with state and federal regulations. Special waterproof cameras, called crawlers, allow for a visual inspection of underground sewer lines and laterals. The crawler can be placed down a manhole and remotely driven from within the truck down the sewer to the next manhole. Documentation of inspection is critical to a successful operation and maintenance program. Pictured above is Sewer Maintenance Worker Jim Braun, who is viewing footage from the crawler in the Brighton Ridge subdivision.

Super Steel Celebrates 100 Years

Founded in 1923, Super Steel LLC, a Mequon-based full-service contract metal-fabrications, machining, coating, and assembly Tier One supply partner recently celebrated the company's 100th anniversary. Super Steel has 250 employees and hosted a celebration on September 9, at the company's 300,000 square foot facility on their 30-acre property located on Industrial Drive. Pictured (L) to (R) are State Senator Dan Knodl, Mayor Andy Nerbun, Super Steel Chairman Paul Luber and Super Steel President/CEO Stephan Achs.

State Publishes 2023 Great Lakes Chronicle

The City recently received the attached letter from Secretary Kathy Blumenfeld of the Wisconsin Department of Administration, announcing the newest issue of the Wisconsin Great Lakes Chronicle. The 2023 edition is the 22nd issue published by the State. The Chronicle provides information on public policy, highlights projects to protect, preserve and restore water resources and coastal areas, and creates a historical record of events and perspectives. Save the Date for Turkey Trot on November 23

The Junior Woman's Club of Mequon-Thiensville will host its 19th annual 5K Turkey Trot Run/Walk through the Village of Thiensville on Thanksgiving morning, November 23. The 2023 Turkey Trot will once again be an in-person, chip-timed race with a 9:00 A.M. start. Participants can register through the Junior Woman's Club website. The annual Turkey Trot may last only a few hours, but the impact of the event keeps going long after the last participant crosses the finish line. Since 2005, the Junior Woman's Club has given more than $456,000 of race proceeds to humanitarian, educational, civic, and cultural projects within Ozaukee County.
